Life is at its finest in the Village of Homewood, a prominent south suburban community positioned just 25 miles outside of the Chicago Loop and all of its culture, entertainment, shopping and dining. The Village has earned top nods for its high quality of life from such well-known resources as Forbes, Chicago Magazine and the Chicago Tribune. Distinguishing features of this tight-knit community include award-winning schools and recreation programs, a well-known downtown area, a dynamic economy and a great housing spread. The Village of Homewood sustains its vibrancy and close-knit quality of life through its emphasis on recreation and outdoor living. This is achieved in the many community events, festivals, and cultural activities hosted throughout the year in parks, preserves, and business districts. The Downtown Homewood Business Association coordinates the Art and Garden Street Fair and Holiday Lights in Homewood events, along with several Girls Night Out and sidewalk sales throughout the year. In addition to these community events, they donate to special causes, church and youth groups, sport teams and school programs, and local not-for-profits. The downtown merchants believe that the strength of Homewood's economy depends on a mutually supportive relationship between resident and business owner. Go to dhba.biz for a list of members
